

NEW PEACE POLICY LAUNCHED

RUSSIA PLANS NEW WAR

WINTER ATTACK AGAINST POLES NOW UNDER WAY

Moscow Denies That Red Armies Suffered Military Defeat

NEW ARMY PREPARED

Forty Thousand French Troops Aiding Polish Forces.

Berlin, Aug. 28.—Russia is preparing for a winter campaign against the Poles, it was learned at the soviet embassy today.

Moscow denies that Russia has suffered a military defeat. Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik minister of war, is assembling a new Russian army which will be used against the Poles during the winter.

According to an unconfirmed dispatch from Koenigsberg to the New Berliner, quoting former Polish soldiers, there are 40,000 French troops including part of the French twenty-fourth division, fighting with the Poles against the Russians.

According to the Koenigsberg report French negro troops were on the Polish battlefield between Mlava and Przasnysz.

Officials of the soviet embassy said that the Russian war office has plans for a slow and systematic campaign of attrition against the Poles during the winter months.

"Our peasants are idle during the winter and will be only too glad to join the Russian army," it was declared.

Severe fighting continues around Brest-Litovsk according to Koenigsberg dispatches. Polish airplanes reported that the Russians had concentrated all available reserves and artillery in that district for a counter thrust against the Poles.

REDS LOSE 150,000 IN DRIVE ON WARSAW IS LATE ESTIMATE

Poles Urged To Attain Good Military Position.

Paris, Aug. 28.—The foreign ministry announced that France had counseled Poland to attain the best strategic military position possible until peace is signed, regardless of her ethnographical frontier, because the military position will influence the peace terms. France has advised Poland, however, to withdraw her armies within the Polish frontier on the signing of peace, the foreign office added.

Eighty thousand Russian soviet soldiers have been captured in Poland, 40,000 killed and 30,000 interned in East Prussia, according to the latest reports from the French mission in Poland.

The Bolsheviks are making a desperate stand at Grodno, according to a statement of the foreign ministry here. The statement added that all available Bolshevik troops are being concentrated at Grodno, and a great battle is expected shortly, extending from that place to Brest-Litovsk.

Three Killed at Crossing.

Lima, O., Aug. 28.—Three persons were killed and two injured when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by an Ohio Electric car at Stop 13, near here. The dead: Jack Bodey and Mrs. Jack Bodey.

Lima: Miss Katherine Evans, Geyer, O. The injured: Charles Smith and Mrs. Charles Smith, Lima. The party were on their way from Lima to New England.

Sultan Must Lead Troops.

Constantinople, Aug. 28.—Sultan Mohammed VI must personally lead Turkish troops against the Turkish nationalists in Anatolia to prevent dissolution of the empire, it has been decided at a special cabinet meeting. The sultan's army virtually does not exist, but the allies apparently are willing to permit the organization of a Turkish force to co-operate with the Greeks in attacking Mustapha Kemal's armies.

NEW TAX RATE FOR XENIA CITY WILL BE $4.20 HIGHER THAN PRESENT CHARGE

Plan Fixed By Budget Commission With State's Approval is $20 On $1,000 Valuation, Exclusive Of Special Assessments.

The new tax rate for Xenia City fixed by the budget commission, and approved by the state is $20 on each $1000 of valuation, $4.20 higher than the present rate of $15.80.

This is the general tax rate, and does not include the special assessments for street paving and other purposes.

Every other taxing district in the county has increased rates, due chiefly to the increases of from one mill to three mills granted the schools, and the special two mill road levy for the county which was approved by the voters last fall.

Jamestown will pay on a tax rate of $20.60, the highest in the county.

Other tax rates approved for the villages are: Osborn, $19.50; Fairfield, $16.40; Cedarville, $18.50; Bowersville, $20.40; Yellow Springs, $19; Spring Valley, $16.30; Bellbrook $17.30.

Xenia's new tax rate is divided as follows for different purposes; total state levy, $3.30; of which $2.80 is divided among the schools, and .50 is the emergency levy for roads by the state; general county levy, $2.14. Additional road levy voted outside $15 limit, $2.61. Interest and sinking, $1.25, making a total for state and county of $9.30. City purposes, $6.03; Schools $4.40, and Township, $2.7.

In addition to $4.40 which the schools receive from the city, $2.80 is divided among them from the state, making a total of $7.20 on each $1000 valuation which goes for school purposes.

On a tax valuation of approximately $12,200,000 in Xenia city, the rate of $20 will yield $244,000 to be paid by taxpayers as general taxes.

Xenia's city's share for all purposes from this amount will be $73,566. The schools will get $87,840; the county $26,108; Xenia township, $3,294. There will be $15,250 for the city's interest and sinking fund; $6,100 for roads, and $31,842 for additional road purposes derived from the special levy outside the $15 limit.

While the schools receive for their maintenance from Xenia City, $87,840, Xenia City school district outside Xenia will yield an additional $7,160 for that purpose making a total of $95,000 for the schools of Xenia City and Xenia City school district.

LONGSHOREMEN STILL FIRM IN STRIKE MATTER

British Lines Are Tied Up In Port By Walkout.

EXPECT SPREAD

Women Pickets Aid In What May Be General Move

New York, Aug. 28.—Every British vessel in New York harbor is tied up by a strike of several thousand longshoremen, who quit work in the hope of forcing Great Britain to release from jail Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, and permit Archbishop Mannix to land on Irish soil.

Strike leaders said they expected to spread the walkout to every port in the United States.

Women pickets, who inspired the unexpected walkout of longshoremen, and the marine firemen, water tenders and others who joined them, feel the same way about it. They are not going back to work on British ships, they said, until Great Britain meets their wishes.

Irish sympathizers working on American, French and Belgian steamships also quit work during the whirlwind campaign the strikers waged along the North river front.

A little band of women pickets inspired the strike during the lunch hour. They stationed themselves outside the White Star line pier to await the arrival of the Baltic, from which Archbishop Mannix was removed by a British naval vessel on that ship's voyage to Ireland and England. The archbishop was not permitted to land in Ireland, but was taken to England, and longshoremen said they resented this.

When the Baltic docked the women held up a placard reading: "When Mannix goes to Ireland let the Baltic leave New York," and also displayed other signs and banners referring to Mannix, Lloyd-George and Terence MacSwiney.

The longshoremen who had started work on the Baltic decided not to work and, accompanied by the women pickets, they went into the holds of the other nearby liners, Caponic, Olympic and Celtic, where they quickly induced hundreds of other longshoremen and allied workers to join their walkout.

Forming outside the White Star line pier, inside of which were officials calling for police reserves, the strikers began a parade that swept up West street, engulfing hundreds of longshoremen at the docks of the Cunard, Anchor and other British lines, and leaving in its wake more than a dozen steamships with loading schedules badly disrupted.

Marcus Bingamon Sustains Bruised Shoulder In Crash.

Marcus Bingamon, aged 11, was slightly injured when the seven passenger Chalmers automobile driven by his father, Charles Bingamon, of east of town, was struck by a Pierce-Arrow Wilmington auto bus at Main and Detroit streets at nine o'clock Saturday morning.

Mr. Bingamon was driving his machine east on Main street and the bus which was going south on Detroit street, struck the Bingamon car broadside, mashing the side of the body and the door and demolishing the windshield. The bumper on the bus was slightly damaged and one fender bent. The Bingamon boy was bruised about the shoulder.

The bus was in charge of driver Dixon of Wilmington, who accepted all responsibility for the accident, and with Mr. Bingamon went to Police Headquarters with Patrolman Wilkins where he agreed with Acting Chief Day to settle with Mr. Bingamon for the damages.

Queenstown Scene Of Trouble; 2 1-2 Million Damage In Belfast.

Dublin, Aug. 28.—Many buildings were sacked and wrecked in an outbreak of rioting at Queenstown today.

Troops were called out to restore order, but at last accounts from Queenstown desultory fighting was still in progress.

Soldiers are alleged to have started the trouble in reprisal for an attack upon the British military forces at Cahinmore.

British highlanders were said to have led the pillaging. Advances from Queenstown this afternoon said that British officers had succeeded in rounding up all the turbulent troops.

London Aug. 28.—Damage from rioting and incendiarism in Belfast and vicinity totals $2,500,000, according to a Belfast dispatch to the Evening News today. One hundred and twenty houses at Ballymacaree were gutted by fire.

Soldiers are on guard around St. Matthews church at Ballymacaree, which was threatened.

Rioting at Belfast had died down today but sporadic looting was reported from that city.

RED TROOPS ARE STARVING; THOUSANDS CROSS THE FRONTIER

Families Of Soldiers Accompany Troops In Retreat.

Berlin, Aug. 28.—Fleeing Bolshevik troops are crossing the frontier into East Prussia by the thousands. Many of the soldiers are accompanied by their wives and their children, who they said they were forced to bring with them on the invasion of Poland or they would have starved to death while the men were fighting at the front. German officials established soup kitchens to care for the starving, emaciated Russians, many of whom declare they never want to return to Russia.

The German government is negotiating with the entente regarding the feeding and ultimate disposal of the interned Russians. Tentative plans have been made to take them to Pillau and Swinemunde, and then distribute them from there among the more habitable former Russian prison camps.

Bank Robbers Captured.

Goreville, Ill., Aug. 28.—Three men who blew the safe in the First National bank here and fled in an automobile with $5,000 in currency were surrounded and captured by farmers about 10 miles north of here, according to reports. The farmers blocked the road with farm machinery and surrounded the robbers at the barricade.

Fined and Loses Liquor.

Dennison, O., Aug. 28.—Antonio Scalero's car here and from Pittsburgh cost him $500 and the cost of 12 quarts of bonded whisky more than the money he paid at the ticket window. He was fined by Mayor William Hill for transporting liquor, which was poured into the sewer.

WORLD JUSTICE COURT BROUGHT FORWARD BY HARDING IN ADDRESS

Senator Advocates New Peace Instrument With "Teeth In It" As Substitute For The League Of Nations.

SAYS LEAGUE IS ABSOLUTE FAILURE

Condemns Administration's Foreign Policy As "Wiggling and Wobbling"; Outlines Dangers Of Old Scheme.

Marion, O. August 28.—A new forward here today by Senator Warren G. Harding as the Republican party's international peace policy.

He would take and combine he said, all that is good and exorcise all that is bad from both organizations to get an effective peace instrument "with teeth in it."

Only in some such manner as this Senator Harding asserted, can the world obtain the lasting peace for which it is crying, future wars be prevented, and America assured of maintaining independence in foreign affairs.

In his first "fighting speech" on international issues delivered from his front porch today to a group of Indiana Republicans, Senator Harding declared that the League as conceived at Paris has broken down utterly. It is due only to the farsighted Republican senate, he said that American soldiers are not now fighting on the Polish-Russian front.

Senator Harding savagely attacked the administration's entire foreign policy—from Mexico to Europe and from Armenia to Latin America.

"Wiggling and wobbling," was the term he frequently used to describe it.

Wasting but a few words in introduction, the senator devoted his remarks entirely and at once to the foreign situation. He said, in part: "Let us suppose the senate had ratified the peace treaty containing the League Covenant, what would be the situation confronting our country today? There is but one answer. Before this day we would have been called upon to fulfill the obligations which we had assumed under Article Ten, to preserve the territorial integrity of Poland 'as against external aggression.'"

"Let us assume further that the performance of the allotted task required waging war on the Russian people, as of course it would. We are fully informed that only congress can declare war and congress might reject the appeal of the executive. "Could congress do that without staining indelibly the honor of the nation?"

"I answer 'no' and back of my judgement stands the president of the United States."

"But now," he continued "conditions have changed. We know now that the League constituted at Versailles is utterly impotent as a preventative of wars. It is so obviously impotent it has not even been tried. It could not survive a single test. The original league, mistakenly conceived and unreasonably insisted upon has undoubtedly passed beyond the possibility of restoration. It rested upon the power of might not of right."

"The assertion is made frequently that through the surrender of our nationality we might have saved the life of the covenant; that is, although 28 nations could not make it function, one added to that 28 could make it a glowing success, provided that one be America."

"What can it signify if not that it is to the United States alone that the other 28 nations look for the bone and marrow?"

Governor Cox also made a statement commenting on Mr. Upham's denial of his charges. After reading a statement from Mr. Upham that $8,145,000 contribution quota list presented by the candidate at Pittsburgh was "phony," Governor Cox said:

"The senate committee can find out perfectly well who attended this meeting, at which these lists were distributed by the Republican leaders. It is a matter that can be got at in a perfectly simple way."

"Another thing that I don't understand is why Mr. Harding and Mr. Hays are not coming forward with some explanation of why this quota list was kept secret."

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Policeman Under Arrest.

Cleveland, Aug. 28.—Charged with having obtained $100 under false pretenses that he could obtain the release of a prisoner from the Canton workhouse, Clifford Dinwiddie, a temporary policeman, was placed under arrest here. Dinwiddie is alleged to have secured this sum from Manuel Katz to secure freedom for a friend serving 60 days upon a charge of violating the liquor laws.

Lehman, conductor, and Cartwright, brakeman, were standing on the rear of the train, which was struck by the engine of the running train. The engine and 10 cars were overturned and badly damaged.

Pheasants at State Game Farm.

Wellington, O., Aug. 28.—There are more than 7,000 young pheasant at the state game farm, near here, ready to be distributed to various points in Ohio for the convenience of hunters. The farm has several litters of skunks, five deer and about 50 silver foxes.

NO ASSURANCE IS GIVEN BY JUSTICE DEPARTMENT. SAID

Sugar Jobbers May Not Recover Losses Sustained.

Washington, Aug. 28.—The department of justice has given no assurance to sugar jobbers that they may recover their losses brought about by the drop in sugar prices by bringing suit against the refiners on grounds that the refiners sold sugar at excessive prices and maintained the prices by combination, the attorney general's office announced this afternoon.

The department is maintaining a "hands off" policy, it was announced and the question of losses must be settled between the jobbers and the refiners although an investigation is being made to determine whether there has been any violation of the Lever Act by the refiners in the sale of sugar at high prices.

JAPAN LOOKS TO UNITED STATES FOR SOLUTION OF FAR EAST PROBLEM; DOES NOT DESIRE WAR WITH THIS COUNTRY

BY FLOYD MacGRIFFEE.

Copyright 1920 by The International News Service.

New York, Aug. 27.—"Japan is looking toward the United States to-day for helpful guidance and sympathetic co-operation in the far east," Mr. Frank A. Vanderlip, eminent world financier and economist, declared today to the International News Service in an exclusive interview.

"I sincerely believe Japan does not want war with the United States and will only go to war to preserve her national honor.

"Individual Japan may count on her own, but whole nations do not do it unless forced to. Japan knows she could not win against the United States.

"The general impression in Japan, I believe, is that Washington has not done it unless without reason to all things Japanese. And this is resented.

"I heard very little of any possible co-operation in a commercial sense with England by the Japanese," said Mr. Vanderlip. "The Japanese were strangely silent.

"Japan's situation is urgent. There are 57,000,000 Japanese living in a territory about the size of California—only 12 per cent of which is arable and their race is increasing at the rate of 700,000 a year.

"Japan has three possibilities before her. First, she can become an industrial nation, like England. But that will be difficult. England had coal and iron and was the originator of the modern industrial state. Japan has no great amount of iron, only a little coal and some copper. Her people have little aptitude for repetitive work—they make no two things exactly alike. It would take considerable time to train efficient workmen and develop industries. And even then they probably could not compete with England in similar lines.

"Second, Japan could export surplus population, although this would hardly relieve the present home situation. But where would the Japanese go. Not to Canada or the United States or Australia, where they are barred or to India or China, which already are over populated. Possibly to South America. But the Japanese are not hardy as a race in grappling with an unfavorable climate or primitive conditions.

"Third, Japan can expand commercially into Manchuria, Siberia and China, where there is coal and iron to be had and where social conditions should be stabilized."

STOCKS

Numerous critics have for some weeks believed that stocks would soon turn upward. The midweek movement apparently fulfilled this expectation. Sentiment veered to the constructive side. Defeat of the Russian armistice, promising safety to Poland and an end to the danger of a devastating war in Europe and Bolshevik incursions optimistic reports from the steel industry and improved credit conditions inspired growing confidence. The mid-summer dullness is destined to pass. The market's technical position is strong as a result of the prolonged liquidation and decline to successively lower levels and the short interest had undoubtedly become large. The market may or may not have discounted all the impending depression in business and embarked upon an orderly recovery but recent tendencies are certainly encouraging.

GRAIN

No important element of strength exists in the corn market but small receipts and material damage to the new crop through early frost could reverse the situation. Early frost could hurt quality more than yield. Very seldom has it done serious damage, as usually it does not reach the corn belt until after the first or second week in October. A good many farmers have been holding old corn because they considered the market price too low. Import buying is intermittently a chief sustaining factor in the wheat and indeed in all grain markets. Receipts have been limited despite progress of new crop movement. The Winnipeg wheat market, opening at $2.75 approximately repeated the initial performance of the Chicago futures market. It remains to be seen whether the similarity will continue. The mills are taking more wheat than formerly now that stocks are running low.

LIVESTOCK

Western beef is reaching market in increasing volume and, as is inevitable depressing prices. Good corn-fed stuff is scarce as heretofore. Grassers are at the year's lowest levels. Hogs found no powerful supporting influence. Packers have shown a disposition to sustain the markets while farmer periodically diminish loadings when prices sag. Live mutton has suffered acute depression owing to the slump in wool fresh imports of New Zealand frozen lamb and financial stringency in the west. Stocker trade came to life when the money tension eased a little and farmers considered the corn prospects and prevailing prices on cattle suitable for feeding.

AGRICULTURE

August has witnessed a slight easing of the credit strain. Grain is being moved with tolerable ease and some bankers even go so far as to declare that the peak load is past. Grain interests and the bank were forehand in preparing for the agricultural demand of late summer and early fall. Credit requirements of the new crop have not yet reached their maximum but the banks give promise of meeting them without serious distress. The farmers themselves are more comfortably situated this year than in many years past. The increasing number of country banks and farmers bank according to the president of one large Philadelphia bank greatly reduces the amount of cash needed for crop moving. The new organization of farm loan associations should put larger credit resources on the Federal loan system.

CARE ESSENTIAL

Care in picking candidates for election in the fall is essential on the part of every voter and especially the farmer, who has important interests to guard and numerous distractions. The honest voters need frequent warning against letting the office of government fall into the hands of corrupt forces, which manipulate it for their own aggrandizement or material advantage. The average American preoccupied with profits and prices. The power of the government for good or evil received striking demonstration during the war under extreme conditions. In view of the malignity with which unscrupulous officials and legislators may exercise this power the apathy displayed by the American public in vesting power over its affairs is simply astounding. Problems of readjustment demand closest study of issues and candidates that figure in the November election. The flood of immigration promises to break all records and is limited only by transportation facilities if advices from abroad are trustworthy. The influx of Italians, Greeks and sundry other nationalities will solve the labor problem on the farm as well as in the factory. The immigrant untrained and unfamiliar with American conditions and particular farm problems, however, is no more fitted to become an independent farmer in a majority of cases than he is to enter any one of skilled crafts. Farming has greatly changed within the past five or ten years. The farms are being modernized and motorized and are getting on a systematic basis. Farming is a business that requires training and experience and will not yield its riches to a novice. America has outstripped Europe in the use of agricultural machinery and many aliens are unaccustomed to the use even of the simpler farm implements. The immigrants will at first be chiefly useful by reason of the physical vigor they possess and their willingness to work hard and long at common tasks.

Great Lakes and coastwise carriers have received generous rate increases that while adding to the shipper's burden will increase efficiency and promote economy in business if the same results accrue that are expected as concerns the railroads. Water transportation will play an increasingly important part in the nation's prosperity and progress.

JUDGE DENNIS DWYER DIES AT AGE OF 90 FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Judge Dennis Dwyer, 90, noted jurist, traction magnate and leading citizen of Dayton, died at his home, 460 Grand avenue Friday afternoon, at 5:30 o'clock. Death was due to cancer from which he had suffered since last February.

Having occupied the judicial bench in Montgomery county, Judge Dwyer was one of the best known citizens of Dayton and through his legal connections was known in this city and all over the state. He was born in County Tipperary, Ireland, February 2, 1830, and for a time worked in his uncle's clock and watch works there. He came to this country in 1848, and after working for several months on a farm in Miami county he went to Dayton and took up cabinet making. Later he studied law in the offices of Wood and News and after being admitted to the bar was elected fifth probate judge in Montgomery county in 1866. He held the judgeship for three years and also served for years as a member of the board of education. He was judge of the superior court in 1880 and at the abolishment of the superior court and the appointment of another judge to take its place, he received that appointment.

In 24 years service on Montgomery county benches only one of his decisions was reversed. With a number of other Daytonians, Judge Dwyer was first to bring natural gas into Dayton, discovering the well on his farm after trying circumstances in getting it developed. Judge Dwyer also instituted the first traction line into Dayton, the Dayton and Cincinnati line and later he backed the building of the Dayton, Covington and Aqua line and was its first president. He also built several interurban lines in Kansas and in later years built a branch road from Covington to Fort Laramie.

The jurist joined the Dayton Lodge No. 58, of Elks when 86 years old. He was a member for years of Dayton Council, No. 500, Knights of Columbus and a member of the Dayton City Club. He was one of the staunchest supporters of Holy Angels Catholic church and a warm personal friend of Rev. Father Martin P. Neville. He leaves his wife and four children by his first marriage.

BEAUTY BATHS

When the women of ancient days wished to become beautiful they took elaborate series of baths to accentuate their good looks. Bathing nowadays is less luxurious than in ancient days but infinitely more convenient. There are various sorts of bath which have decided tonic and beautifying effects and it would be an excellent idea if every woman knew which sort agreed with her best.

Of course, one of the most stimulating baths is the hot shower with a "needle spray" followed by a quick shower in water as cold as can be stood. The celebrated milk baths of ancient times, which the Roman women used to preserve their youth, can be imitated very well by using the following mixture: Marshmallow Flowers... 1-2 pound Hyssop Herb... 1-4 pound Bran Flour... 4 pounds These materials are mixed together and put into cheese cloth bags. The formula contains enough for 4 baths. A camphor bath is very refreshing and is prepared by dropping slowly into the tub of warm water enough of the following lotion to make the water milky in appearance.

Tincture of Benzoin... 1-2 ounce Tincture of camphor... 1 ounce Cologne... 2 ounces There is nothing, of course, that is more refreshing when you are tired than a sea water bath. This is made by throwing into the water several handfuls of common sea salt. It is one of the cheapest beauty baths, for a large bag of salt costs but 10 cents.

Valencia—From five to ten more pounds would bring you up to average, but I would not worry about it, since you are still growing. The colors you suggest are all good ones for your type, especially low, burnt orange and brown. You can bleach the sunburn by rubbing into it the juice from cucumbers. If your friend will send an addressed, stamped envelope, I shall be pleased to send her the formulas she wants.

AUGUST TAX SETTLEMENT DISTRIBUTES OVER $310,000 INTO LOCAL DISTRICTS

The August settlement of the June tax collection has been completed by County Auditor R. O. Wead, and distribution of $340,398.85 made out of the general tax fund into the various taxing districts.

Xenia city received in the distribution, $32,723.72.

There were $126,892.65 distributed among the schools of the county. The schools also receive $7,262 from the state.

Greene county's total share in the distribution was $101,771.47.

The distribution in detail is as follows, excepting special assessments:

D. L.—Lemon Juice is applied as you would any lotion. You may take a small piece of lemon and go over the freckles with it, until the skin absorbs the juice. Once a day would be enough, allowing it to remain for a half hour; then follow it with a good cold cream. You may take the fruit salad without any fear of extra weight but be sparing with the dressing.

Daily Reader—It is evident that you need to be built up so you will increase your weight. Take plenty of milk eggs and an oil dressing on your salads. Send an addressed, stamped envelope for the formula.

C. W.—Witch Hazel is soothing to a tender skin. Yeast, for external use, is made into a paste by rubbing into the cake a small amount of water. Apply this at night to the pimples and rinse with warm water in the morning. Your description of yourself indicates a run-down condition and, most likely, an impacted colon. Frequently, young men get into this condition, from no other cause than too many sweets and indifference to a clean digestive system. You would do well to consult a physician.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

IMPORTANT SERIES OF CONFERENCES BY DEMOCRATS BEGIN

President Wilson To Lend Cox More Help In Campaign.

Washington, August 28.—President Wilson has put his hand to the political plowshare and henceforth Governor Cox, the Democratic standard bearer, will have more and more of the president's help in keeping to the furrow of the campaign, if plans under way today do not miscarry.

The most important and far reaching conferences since San Francisco are scheduled for this week end, it became known here today. Secretary Joseph Tumulty, the president's man Friday; Governor Cox himself; Secretary of State Clegg; E. H. Moore, the Democratic candidate's pre-convention campaign manager; Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi; Chairman George White of the Democratic national committee; Homer S. Cummings, former chairman of the national committee, Congressman James Campbell Cantrill of Kentucky, organization manager and other party leaders, between now and Monday will confer in the east on the final details of the campaign.

Governor Cox within the next few days, will start on his first "swing round the country." The gathering of the chieftains in the east is regarded by experts here as a meeting of a board of strategy, with President Wilson's lieutenants sitting in that they might speak for him, express his views and volunteer his services if his services are required.

HARDING DEFENDS CUMMINS-ESCH BILL TO RAIL AUDIENCE

Galion, O., August 28.—Senator Warren G. Harding staunchly defended the Cummins-Esch railroad law this afternoon in an address, here to a large number of Erie railroad employees and declared that the government should guarantee the continuity of public service.

"Some day," he told the railroad men, "maybe not this year, you railway workers, will help that new law as the greatest forward step in all the history of railroad legislation." Galion is one of the most important railroad centers in Ohio, and there was a great outpouring to hear Senator Harding in this, his first speech away from the front porch. The senator motored over from Marion, 26 miles away. The occasion was a picnic.

FOOTBALL SEASON NEARBY ATTRACTS ATTENTION OF FANS

With August dying, cooler weather approaching and school supplies being exhibited in show windows, there is the tang of the football season in the air.

Already moleskin enthusiasts are forming plans for local eleven this year that will outclass previous attempts to put winning gridiron combinations in the field here. Many of the old time stars and many new ones are being listed by the backers of the football teams to appear on the oblong this season.

The Xenia Maroons, the team that completed an excellent record last year between the uprisings here are again planning on an eleven that will be the peer of last year's tribe of oval chasers. Already those backing the semi-pros have consulted star performers of last season as to their football intentions this fall and have found that the majority of the old stars will make regular appearances in the lineup besides a number of new players who have recently come here.

It is estimated by the dopesters that the chances of the Maroons for a winning gridiron assemblage this year are exceedingly roseate. Paul Walker who handled the team last year from the managerial standpoint is out of town and probably will not be available but it will be remembered that the Maroons never suffered from a dearth of backfield material last year. In fact so extensive was the material for the backfield that it was difficult to assign positions.

This year most of the old-timers will be back in moleskins Buck, Wilson, Smith, Wm. Leakey and others are expected to handle the totting of the pellet. On the line there will be practically all of the hefty who guarded the forward positions last year and probably a few more. At least two College stars are on the string of the Maroon backers and will probably be signed to appear in the white-washed environs this year. With these prospects the chances for a better team than developed last year are manifest. Of course George Baldwin says he won't coach the club this year but then this veteran of the grid game always makes a statement like that until the call of the game gets to working on him.

Up at the High School it is impossible to rate the blue and white moleskinners as to ability this year. Coach V. L. Fairies has an excellent schedule arranged one that tries the merit of the gridiron without running them up against too brilliant a combination. As for prospects it has always been the fact at the school that little is known of the material until the first day of school. Along about the first there are always a few huskies roll in from out of town who when added to the material on hand serve to bolster up the squad. Some such material as this is hoped for this year. Many of last year's team were lost to the school through graduation but there will be such lads as Boxwell, LeSourd, Shoup, McFadden, Donges and others, on which to build a successful eleven.

The much new material needed means hard work for players and coach during the first few weeks for the schedule calls for a game with Urbana at the latter place, on September 25 the opening contest of the official season.

BEAUTY CHATS

FLUFFY HAIR

One might say that some women are born with fluffy hair, some have fluffy hair thrust upon them, and some acquire it. It seems to me at times that all the women I know are trying to achieve this desirable condition. Fluffy hair is, of course, a great blessing—it stands away from the face, it does up easily into any wanted style, and it retains hairpins. Yet there is a great beauty in hair that is limp and soft and clinging.

Most hair is fluffy immediately after a shampoo. It sometimes happens, however, that a tendency to undue oiliness destroys this condition after about a week. As the hair should not be washed more often than every two weeks, some artificial method of making the hair fluffy must be resorted to. I would suggest a dry shampoo as the best way of doing this.

There are all sorts of dry shampoo methods. The least expensive is to pour out a few handfuls of plain corn meal on a sheet or piece of newspaper, and rub this thoroughly through the hair. It leaves the hair dry, fairly clean and as delightfully fluffy as could be desired. Another method is to sprinkle talcum powder over the hair and brush it through thoroughly, getting it all out if possible. Powdered orris is delightful to use and it possesses the great advantage of not sticking to the scalp and clogging the pores. A dry shampoo may be given once a week without hurting the hair.

Elizabeth K.—An impure breath may come from a number of causes—an upset digestion, bad teeth or catarrh. To rid yourself of it, hunt the cause of it and correct it that way. There are any number of good mouth washes that deodorize. Ordinary cloves will sweeten the breath. Spinach, cranberries and onions will give you what you need.

Blue Eyes.—You are about 10 pounds below normal weight.

Curly Head.—You can bleach the freckles by rubbing lemon juice into them.

Brownie.—A girl of 12 years could easily keep to the bobbed style in hair dressing. If you do not care for this, part the hair in center and fluff it out over each ear; then gather the whole mass together at the back of the head and tie with a ribbon bow. It can hang loose from this or be braided and turned up doubling the braid so the ends will come into the bow.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired a stamped, and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Is It Yours

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF
IRA SANKEY
August 28, 1840

The two names that are possibly most beloved by Protestant church members are those of Moody and Sankey. A very wonderful friendship existed between these two men and a great deal of good was done by them. Ira David Sankey was born at Edinborough, Pennsylvania. His father was an editor and, in a modest way, a politician. Both the mother and father were devout Methodists, and at the age of 15 Ira Sankey also joined the church. He had an unusually fine voice and was made choir leader and eventually drawn into a great deal of church activity. When Civil War broke out he enlisted, and after the war he became popular as a singer of sacred songs.

He met Moody at a Y. M. C. A. convention. Moody thought he would be helpful in his evangelical work and invited him to Chicago. A year later they went to England where the popularity spread rapidly. "Moody and Sankey" became household words. Moody was an eloquent speaker, while Sankey made as powerful an appeal through his songs. Several books of their hymns were published in England and America and have had the largest sale of any church hymn books. The best loved song of all was "The Ninety and Nine," which Sankey wrote in England.

The two men started a great evangelical movement which lasted for years and spread throughout the Christian world.

ALLEGED BANDIT HELD ON CHARGE OF ROBBING BANK

Charles O'Malley alias Charles Gorch, said to be one of the five bandits who held up the West Carrollton Bank on March 20, and escaped with $30,000, was arrested in Chicago Friday after he and four companions attempted to hold up the Illinois State Pawnbroker's society band. O'Malley was wounded in a gun duel with police.

The prisoner is now being held in the Chicago jail, awaiting word from Dayton police and it is likely that he will be returned to Dayton to face a charge of highway robbery. A few months ago O'Malley was under bond in the sum of $25,000 at Wauseon, charged with robbing the Delta National Bank early in June of $65,000. He jumped his bond and escaped. While in Wauseon O'Malley was identified by Louis Beckett, who was in the West Carrollton bank at the time of the hold-up, as one of the bandits. It is believed that Albert Joyce, William Dawson and Albert Brown, whom he claims were with him in Chicago, are the same who assisted him in robbing the banks in Ohio. The gang is also wanted in Cleveland for robbing a paymaster of $30,000.

Asserts New Discovery Brings Blessed Relief to Hay Fever Sufferers

Can Make it Yourself at Home at Trifling Expense

In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing Hay Fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time Hay Fever or Rose Fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.

He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been prevailed upon to dispense it through Pharmacists to all Hay and Rose Fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common, yet miserable disease.

And best of all this remedy costs almost nothing. Get three-quarter ounce bottle of Mentholized Arcline at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and fill the pint bottle with water that has been boiled. Then gargle as directed and twice daily sniff or spray each nostril thoroughly.

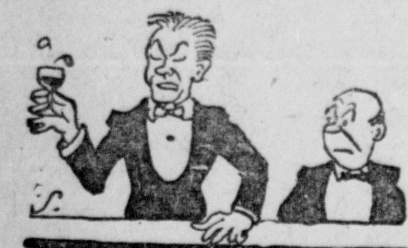

That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work, but oftentimes simple, natural remedies are the best; as you will find after using.

If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days you need not be surprised if your unwelcome yearly visitor fails to appear.

Mentholized Arcline is new in this market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber, who has a large supply.

DINNER STORIES

At a very convivial dinner in London a man with a naturally solemn face arose, glass in hand, to propose a toast. "May we never," he said in deep, measured tones, "drink any more of this stuff." He paused, and there was a horrified silence for several seconds—"than is good for us!"

In a little town out west there lives a man whose sagacity and foresight are almost beyond belief.

Several years ago he bought a fine large umbrella. His first act on reaching home was to open up his purchase and paint on it in large, glaring letters, "Stolen from B. B. Booth."

The village umbrella borrower and all persons with the proverbial failing have shunned Mr. Booth as though he were a pestilence.—Judge.

A restless, bright-eyed urchin was scrambling up on the back of the railway seat, and reaching out his arms and legs in all directions. Every few minutes he knocked off the tall silk hat of the fat man in the seat beyond, and presently an umbrella came tumbling down from the upper rack, nearly bruising the fat man.

When the latter could stand the strain no longer, he turned to the occupant of the seat behind him and said emphatically: "Madam, will you kindly look after your son? He is extremely annoying."

The lady, already burdened with three other mischievous imps, said in a most casual voice: "Johnny, sit down. The gentleman's nervous."—Judge.

An old colored man was burning dead grass when a "wise guy" stopped and said: "You're foolish to do that, Uncle Eb; it will make the meadow as black as you are." "Don't worry 'bout dat, sah," responded Uncle Eb. "Dat grass will grow out an' be as green as you is."

One of the very substantial men of a thriving town in the west is named Garry McIntyre. One day in conversation with a number of soldiers from a military post nearby he said:

"I understand you lads are going on a hike. When you reach Snake River take a good look at it. It is full of undercurrents and eddies. Boys, I am the only living man who ever swam that river."

Several days later the men crossed the Snake River on a cable ferry. The ferryman chanced to inquire quite casually of a waiting soldier:

"Do you know a man down in your country by the name of Garry McIntyre? They tell me he has accumulated a lot of money."

"I was talking to him only the other day," said the soldier. "He told me he swam Snake River once."

"That's right, he did," said the ferryman. "He sure did; but we were all shooting at him."

A little fellow, aged five, arrived home from school while the family was all at the lunch table. With a disgusted look on his face he said, "Say, ma, some of the kids in our class didn't know how to spell 'sarcastic.'"

"Well, dear," replied his mother, "how do you spell it?"

"Me?" he asked. "Oh, I was one of them."

new, the money, munitions and men to sustain the entire organization not as an agency of peace but as an armed force?"

Senator Harding quoted Lloyd George, the British premier, as saying that no armed force could be sent to Poland's aid because the European nations could not furnish the troops and the United States had "withdrawn from cooperation."

"Could a clearer indication of what country was expected if this country as a member of the League be required?" he asked.

"So many things have been done by the present expiring administration that no power on earth could induce me to do that I cannot even at tempt to recount them."

"However, if I am elected, as I fully expect to be, I will not empower an assistant secretary of the navy to draft a constitution for helpless neighbors in the West Indies and jam it down their throats at the point of bayonets borne by United States marines."

"Nor will I misuse the power of the executive to cover with a veil of secrecy repeated acts of unwarranted interference in domestic affairs of the little republics such as in the last few years have not only made enemies of those who should be our friends but have rightfully discredited our country as their trusted neighbor."

"On the other hand I will not submit to any wrong of any American citizen by any government. This statement is made in all solemnity, with enmity for none and friendship for all. If it particularly applies to Mexico the application has been directed by the robbery and murder of hundreds of our people in that unhappy country who were lawfully there. These outrages are largely the consequence of wiggling, and wobbling the supine waiting of our own government."

"This admonition is not directed exclusively toward our next door neighbor. It is intended for a plain notice to every government on the face of the earth that the entire resources of this nation are pledged to maintain the sacredness of American lives and properties. This is not bombast, my countrymen, it is a note of assurance that is the right of American citizenship."

IS GIVEN DECISION OVER KID DAYTON

Jack Wolfe, of Cleveland, was given the decision over Kid Dayton, of Dayton, in the fifth round of their scheduled 12-round fight at the Exposition building, at Dayton, Friday night when Dayton's second, Nip Howell leaped into the ring in protest to foul blows being used by Wolfe.

It seems that Wolfe was hitting the Dayton fighter every time or coming out of a clinch and an exhibition of those tactics in the fifth round howled, Howell jumped into the ring and Ollie Percord gave the decision to Wolfe on the technicality that Howell had entered the ring after time was called.

Joe Price of Cleveland and Young Web of Dayton fought to a draw in the eight round semi-windup and Charley Rodway defeated Battling Bingim in the third round of their six round preliminary.

"JUST A GIRL"

BY JANE PHELPS

AN UNUSUAL HAPPENING

CHAPTER 102

"Are you very fond of the theater, Miss Stewart?" Mr. Claxton asked.

"Very, although I go but seldom."

"I have some tickets for a play tonight and find I cannot use them. I thought perhaps you and Miss Murphy might take them."

"Thank you so much. I shall be delighted to go, and I am sure Mary will also. It is very kind of you."

I hurried home with my precious bits of pasteboard. I would get all ready before Mary came in. She hardly ever got home before half past seven. Then I could help her dress. The seats were in the seventh row in the orchestra, and I wanted to look as well as possible.

I was all dressed when Mary came in. I had put on one of my afternoon dresses—one I had worn but once or twice since Dad died, but it was still in style and looked very nice. We would go hatless, which as Mary said, "helped some" as neither of us had bought a new hat in some time.

She was as excited as could be, and so nervous that it was fortunate I had dressed early and could help her. We got off in time, however—were indeed, a little early.

"I'm glad, we can see the pretty clothes," Mary whispered.

I was also pleased to see the stylish costumes. I found myself suddenly longing once more to see women in beautiful gowns and men in evening clothes. By the time the curtain went up it seemed almost as if I were back in New York at some play where I knew many of the audience—where I was one of them. Our seats were almost exactly in the center of the house, so we could see not only the stage but the people in the boxes. Mary was delighted.

"I ain't never been downstairs before, Zena. It is lovely here," she whispered.

"Isn't it? And I am sure you will like the play. I read the criticisms the other day."

During the intermissions Mary chattered constantly. She was really funny in her remarks about the women whom she considered took the public too much into their confidence as regarded their backs. Evening dresses were cut very low almost to the waist-line.

"It wouldn't be so bad if they had anything but bones to show!" she said of one woman whose shoulder blades were conspicuous. Then saying one whose blades were entirely eliminated by layers of fat, she remarked: "I guess there ain't many women with backs that would take a prize at a beauty show. Zena. Too thin, or too fat. Why do they want to show them anyway? They ain't pretty."

I agreed with her that not many women had backs that proved interesting. And that it was indecorous to expose themselves as some of them did. But I am afraid I was not as shocked as she was. I had been accustomed to seeing women in evening dress all my life, and to wearing them myself.

Tom came for us. He had called at the house, and Mrs. Fagin had told him where we were.

"How did you like the show, Mary?"

"Fine and dandy! But oh, Tom, you should have seen them ladies without hardly any clothes on—just straps over their shoulders to keep them from slipping off altogether. And the men looked just like waiters. You should have seen them open-faced coats they were wearing."

"Did you enjoy it too, Miss Zena?"

"Very much indeed! It was a fine play, and well acted. I think it has done us both good."

"It was mighty fine in your employer to give you the tickets. Lots of men wouldn't have been so thoughtful. You both look brighter instead of tired as you should for staying out so late."

"All work and no play is as bad for the Jills of the world as it is for the Jacks, I guess, Tom. I do feel brighter," I said.

"Me too! Tell your boss not to forget us the next time he gets tickets he can't use," Mary said. Then in a different tone: "You tell him how much I liked it, won't you Zena? I mean you thank him for me. You can do them kind of things so much better."

"I'll say all the nice things I can think of, but if he comes into the shop soon again don't forget to speak of it yourself."

"You bet I won't!"
